Dear Parents,

Please find attached our latest Ofsted report following our recent inspection. We are pleased that it reflects the improvements in the school in all areas and shows how proud the children are to attend Nelson; however, we are still on an improving journey.

The good aspects in the report are securely good and this has been achieved by the hard work and consistent approach of the leadership team and staff.

The changes that Ofsted put in place in September means that subject leaders now fall under the Leadership and Management judgement. As many of our subject leaders are new to their role, we will be working with them to increase their knowledge and expect that by the next inspection the Leadership and Management judgement will be securely good too.

As the management of foundation subjects improves, and therefore teacher's wider curriculum knowledge, so too will the Quality of Education grade as this judgement is reliant on the curriculum and teaching.

During the inspection the inspectors made some lovely comments about the clear considered starting points for the children in nursery and reception, through to the rich curriculum that prepares the children for the future going on to secondary school.

The school will continue to drive forward until it is judged a good school and beyond! We would like to say a big thank you to all our parents for the supportive comments on parent view and the kindness shown to the staff during the inspection.

Kind Regards,
